ABOUT THE ARTIST

Keri Jo is an intuitive artist who creates colorful and imaginative paintings that radiate a sense of peacefulness and awe. Inspired by the brilliance of white light, the beauty of nature, and the whimsy of fantasy, my work invites viewers to lose themselves in the present moment and embrace joy.

“In my creative process, I use highly pigmented alcohol, India, and acrylic inks. The unpredictable nature of alcohol inks allows me to embrace the unexpected and flow with the inks resulting in unique and emotionally resonant artwork. My art is built upon vibrant hues, natural forms, and graceful contours, beckoning observers to delve into the intricacies of color harmonies and shapes, all the while inspiring a deep and reverent sense of wonder.”

Her artistic spirit is joyful and playful. She relishes in experimenting with various techniques and color combinations, often incorporating non-traditional mediums such as red wine, soap, or oil to infuse a touch of enchantment into her creations.
