

Vincent Martin

ABOUT THE ARTIST

Vincent Martin is an American artist who primarily does abstract paintings and works mainly with acrylic on canvas. Vincent gets his inspiration from past memories, travels, and life experiences. However, the main source of Vincent's inspiration comes from the Holy Spirit. Before Vincent begins to paint, he says a prayer to the Holy Spirit and turns on some music and begins to work.

Vincent is a self-taught artist with no formal education. Vincent lived in Spain for a little over three years which has been a big influence on his art. He feels that since he has no formal training, he really doesn't have any boundaries to his work.

This is the beginning of the second year for Vincent being a member of the Artist Cooperative Gallery. Since mid-2020, he has done several shows and exhibitions at various galleries. He has sold over 400 of his works. He has sold pieces in all but two U.S. states and in various countries around the world on four continents. Regionally, Vincent's works can be seen in Lincoln at the Burkholder project.

PIECES IN THE COLLECTION

I Can't, I'm Busy Thursday series

Acrylic

Purchased through the Artists

Cooperative Gallery in Omaha, NE

Entered into Collection in 2022