ABOUT THE ARTIST

The objective of my work is to make the viewer happy, with a sense of freedom, curiosity, and wonderment. I enjoy painting what I know: kids, animals, nature, colors, and experiences. My work is intimate because of that knowledge. The strong colors, textures, and subject matter, give a sense of atmosphere and fun. I work mainly with acrylic paints, but also enjoy oils, pastels, mixed media, and collage. Another goal in my work is to "tickle the eye," by periodically incorporating actual puzzle pieces into selected paintings. I always say, "if you're not having fun, you'd better get a different brush!"

Commissioned works are always something I look forward to and I welcome studio visits when possible. I teach private and group workshops, corporate team building, produce special projects with schools, and I also work with art therapy clientele.
