

Annie Troe

ABOUT THE ARTIST

Annie Troe is a nationally recognized full-time artist. Previously a graphic design business owner for over 20 years.

“Why? Because I want to create a better & brighter world through art. I am passionate about creating for you! As long as I can remember, I have been drawing and making things. I took EVERY type of art class I could.”

Annie went to Iowa State University and studied art and graphic design. She also loves mashed potatoes and gravy. Chocolate is a very close second. She has enjoyed sports all her life, and right now her sport of choice is golf. She also loves a good cause and drives a white VW bug.
