ABOUT THE ARTIST

After growing up in rural Nebraska and Iowa, I attended Northwest Missouri State University where I earned a BFA in painting, studying under George Rose and Russ Schmaljohn. Continuing my education, I went to Washington University in St. Louis, earning an MFA in painting, studying under James McGarrell. Currently I am an Art Instructor at Northeast Community College. I live in rural Nebraska with my wife, two kids, a dog and a cat.

Statement: The main emphasis is on form, light and space. The work is meant to capture a particular time and place. The attempt is to be present in a given moment.
